

CLASSIFIED

CLASSIFIED is a company active in the development and production of drivetrain technology for sports bicycles (race, gravel, TT and MTB) and E-bikes. CLASSIFIED has broad expertise in drivetrain technology and creates state-of-the-art innovative products. CLASSIFIED focuses on the complete development of its new products: as from market and patent research, through proof of concepts and prototypes, up to series production.

CLASSIFIED has developed a revolutionary drivetrain product for the sports bicycle industry, in particular for the gravel road & mountainbike segment, and is looking to reinforce its team.

CLASSIFIED offers you the unique opportunity to be closely involved in the launch of its new product as well as the development of its other new products. And it is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to exploit and/or further develop your entrepreneurship in doing so. You will engage in a fast growing team with a dynamic environment and experienced team members.

System Test Engineer – Turnhout (BE)

Your function:

As a System Test Engineer you will be responsible for the testing program of newly developed and in house assembled drivetrain systems. You define, roll out and follow up test programs and processes. You coordinate in house and external testing activities. Your electro-mechanical background and hands on mentality allows you to assist your colleagues in various challenges and projects. You will also be engaged in technical documentation.

Your profile:

- You have experience in testing electro-mechanical assemblies, both in software and hardware
- You provide necessary tools and documentation to ensure uniform operation at all test rigs
- You perform new development tests, analyze and report test data
- You like the challenge to set-up testing facilities from scratch
- You are hands on and are able to work autonomously
- You are fluent in English – it is not required to have Dutch as a mother tongue

Personal characteristics:

- You are a team player
- You are organised and well documented
- You are keen on taking up the challenge to bring a new product to the market
- You are creative, innovative and have a problem-solving approach and you enjoy a scale up mentality
- You are positive, thorough, accurate, result-oriented and have an eye for detail and quality
- Being a cyclist is definitely a pro, but not a must!

What do we offer?

- A challenging position in a young, dynamic, company in a highly evolving market
- Being able to work on a product that will revolutionize the sports bicycle industry
- A professional team of highly motivated people in a flexible environment
- A flat organization with a start-up culture and essential communication lines
- Competitive working conditions and compensation

We are looking for a permanent team member: we invest in our collaborators and wish to establish a long-term relationship.
